

A message to Seven Sisters passengers from your station staff:

WARNING: SEVEN SISTERS TICKET OFFICE & STATION STAFF ARE UNDER THREAT

London Underground plans to:

- cut 33 staff at the stations in this area (Walthamstow Central to Highbury & Islington, plus Warren Street)
- cut 63+ staff at Victoria Line stations (this figure does not include King's Cross, Euston and Oxford Circus, which will all have staff cut too)
- cut 7-800 station staff across London Underground

London Underground plans to cut the opening hours of the ticket offices here at Seven Sisters station from 195 hours per week to just 149 hours per week, with the ticket office opening later and closing earlier.

station staff = safety + security + service

Fewer station staff means:

- a less safe London Underground
- less information and help during delays and disruptions
- it will be harder to evacuate stations quickly and safely in the event of an emergency eg. fire, crash, bombing
- less help for disabled, elderly and other vulnerable passengers
- less chance of you getting the help you need with directions, information, lost property, accidents or other issues
- less deterrent to assault, vandalism and other harmful behaviour
- you will feel less secure travelling around London Underground

Shorter ticket office opening hours means you will not be able to get a ticket seller's help when:

- you have a problem with your ticket or Oyster
- the ticket machines are not working (which will happen more often with fewer staff to service them)
- you need to buy a ticket that is not available elsewhere
- you believe that the ticketing system has treated you unfairly
- your ticket or Oyster does not work
- you want the 'personal touch' in dealing with your issue
